

A group of five diverse school children (three girls and two boys) are smiling and standing in a classroom. The girl on the far left has curly hair and is wearing a blue shirt. The girl next to her has a large afro and is wearing a red plaid shirt and holding a blue folder. The boy in the center has blonde curly hair and is wearing a striped shirt with his arms crossed. The girl on the far right has long brown hair and is wearing a white shirt and a blue backpack, making a peace sign. The boy on the far right has dark hair and is wearing a blue checkered shirt. The background shows a whiteboard with colorful sticky notes and a calendar.

No Cuts to Schools!

Our Kids Are Worth It.

The School District of Philadelphia must cut jobs next year due to underfunding. Philadelphia students can't afford fewer teachers, counselors and other school staff.

I support the proposal to deliver at least $50.4 million more to Philadelphia schools every year. The money will save hundreds of jobs and will ensure students get the quality education they deserve.
